Topic: Is honesty important or is it OK to lie sometimes?

White Lies

Honesty is very important, but in my opinion, it is OK to lie sometimes. To start with, I know, when you are a liar, you will lose respect. People will not believe you anymore, but I do not mean that you can never lie. For example, when you are in a trouble, you have to tell a lie. It can save your life. Moreover, maybe you want to protect somebody. In this situation, you must tell a white lie, too. Actually, the point is what type of lie do you tell? As I said before, if your lies are white lies, it is not a problem. It can save lives, protect people or keep somebody out of trouble.
